

An Ascension Day Ritual Revived: New College Choir and St Bartholomew's Chapel

For the last few years, New College choir has revived a tradition last recorded in the seventeenth century, but possibly of much earlier origin. This is the history of the site and of

